(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, May 9.—(UP)—While both the senate and assembly have adopted a "hands off" policy regarding tax measures until the joint committee of 14 completes its program, members nevertheless are working hard for pet proposals.

One of the big controversies centers on the retail sales tax. Several test votes in the lower house has made it evident that it will be most difficult to get approval of a tax program that does not provide for exemption of foodstuffs from the sales levy.

On the other side, Fred E. Stewart and Richard E. Collins, members of the board of equalization, are opposing this exemption because it will reduce revenues 25 per cent and make administration costs substantially higher because of a necessity of constant audits. Stewart and Collins favor retention of the 2½ per cent rate and the inclusion of gas electricity, rentals and interstate transactions to raise $60,000,000 in new revenue.

The assembly got one more tax bill out of the way when it passed a chain store tax bill 68 to 8. While considered more of a regulatory measure than a revenue bill, the proposal will bring in an estimated $3,000,000 a year. It provides for a graduated tax ranging from $1 for the first store up to $500 for the tenth store and $500 for each store over that number.

The assembly is very definitely on record against any measure that provides for governmental consolidation, particularly from the standpoint of the counties. During the week passage of a proposed constitutional amendment giving counties the "permissive" right to consolidate was refused. Another bill which would have permitted consolidation of superior courts by a majority vote of the interested counties was defeated.

As the legislature started work on the tenth week, it was the general belief that final adjournment could not be taken before May 25, or three days after the members' pay was stopped. Even with adjournment at that time, both houses faced a tremendous task and long day and night sessions were assured.

The Merriam administration suffered one of its most serious defeats in the senate when the upper house refused, by a vote of 27 to 9, to withdraw from committee the governor's pet highway unification bill. The senate roads and highways committee had blocked progress of the bill, and failure of the withdrawal attempt was believed to definitely killed the measure which had been strenuously opposed by county supervisors and other local groups.

Passage of social legislation is likely to be confined to a bill increasing the benefits of the state's old age security law. Members of the assembly unemployment committee have been inclined to be absent when a vote was to be taken on unemployment insurance and it is doubtful if such proposals get any consideration on the floor of either house. Doubt also was expressed by members that the proposed health insurance plan could be pushed through to final passage this session.

Lions Club Give Dinner In Honor of Mothers

The Lions Club held their third annual dinner in honor of the mothers of the community on Wednesday evening with about forty-five in attendance. Each member of the club brought either his own mother or someone's mother as has been the custom in the past. A special program had been arranged for the occasion and each mother was presented with a gardenia corsage as a gift from the club.

Rev. P. H. Willis was in charge of the program and delivered an address appropriate to the occasion.

Truckee Sportsmen's Assn. Meeting Monday Night

Fire Destroys Building on Winter Sports Ground

A fire of unknown origin destroyed an old dwelling on the Truckee Winter Sports park on Wednesday night about 9 o'clock. Considerable excitement was caused when the alarm was first given as it appeared from the town that the winter sports pavilion was on fire.

The dwelling was originally built about thirty years ago by the Truckee Lumber Co. and has been unoccupied for many years, and was of no value. It is thought that the fire may have been started by some itinerant.

The U. S. Forest Service responded to the alarm with a new type Panama Pumper mounted on a Chevrolet pick up truck with a 100-gallon tank of water which was recently received in town. They were the means of preventing disruption of toll and telephone line and national broadcast radio service over the American Telephone & Telegraph Co.'s transcontinental lines as the building was close to the telephone wires. The Forest Service crew under the direction of District Ranger H. I. Snider held the flames in check with the pumper and back-pack pumps until the town water supply hose was strung to the scene of the fire.

The telephone company suffered the loss of a pole and it will be necessary to replace some of the copper wire.

Eagles' Mothers' Day Service at Methodist Church

A special Mothers' Day service will be held at the Methodist Church on Sunday morning by the Truckee Aerie of Eagles.

In the past the Order of Eagles have held a special Mothers' Day service with a program at their lodge rooms. This year it was voted to hold the service at the Methodist Church in connection with the regular Sunday service.

Special music has been arranged for this service to be sung by the choir, who sang at the Easter services.

As has been the custom in the past, the Eagles will present each mother attending the services with a bouquet of flowers.

A. P. Leitch To Build Home At Brockway

Work was started this week at Brockway for the erection of a story and a half dwelling for A. P. Leitch, manager of the Pacific Telephone & Telegraph Company. The dwelling will consist of a large living room with fire place, dinette, kitchen, bed room and bathroom on the first floor and two bedrooms on the second floor. The building will be in rustic design. N. R. Mayfield of Tahoe City is the contractor and the dwelling will be completed by the middle of June.

Mrs. Blume To Present Program at Wyethia Club

The Wyethia Club will hold their final meeting for the season Thursday afternoon, May 16th at their clubhouse.

Mrs. Phil Blume of Reno, a member of the Wyethia Club, will have charge of the program for the afternoon and will be assisted by several Reno friends in presenting the entertainment.

The election of officers for the ensuing year was held last Thursday with the following elected: president, Mrs. R. A. Tonini; vice president, Mrs. R. P. Bick, secretary, Mrs. A. Mahue and treasurer Mrs. Clara Ocker.

The Wyethia Club is completing a very successful year under the leadership of Mrs. Dan Smith, who has been president of the club and her officers.

JOE DIXON TAKEN TO COUNTY JAIL

Joe Dixon, Indian, who was given a suspended sentence by Judge C. E. Smith a week ago providing he would leave town, was taken to Nevada City on Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Tom Dolley and placed in the county jail to serve a ninety day sentence.

UTILITY DIRECTORS ARE RE-ELECTED BY LARGE VOTE

Last Minute Write-in Campaign Fails to Defeat Directors Who Receive Big Majorities Over Opponents.

The election for two directors of the Truckee Public Utility District held on Tuesday brought out a large vote as a last minute effort was made by the Citizens' Committee to have a write-in campaigned for two of their candidates, C. C. Campbell and B. Cooper. C. B. White and Tim O'Hanrahan who were up for re-election and were the only candidates to file for the offices and whose names only appeared on the ballots received the overwhelming support of the voters of the district and were returned to their offices with large majorities over their opponents. Both Mr. White and Mr. O'Hanrahan have served as directors since the formation of the district eight years ago and have worked hard and consistently for the benefit of the utility district. They have backed all progressive and constructive policies which would benefit the district and are responsible with the other director Judge C. E. Smith for the lower electric rates now enjoyed by all who are served by the utility district. That the voters of the district appreciate the work these men have done and will continue to do in the future is manifested by the vote of confidence

There was a total of 269 votes cast and C. B. White received 210, Tim O'Hanrahan, 186, Colin C. Campbell 68, Ben Cooper 28, Jos. Sanders 1, M. J. McGinn 1 and James McIver 1.

REPORT GIVEN ON P. T. A. ACTIVITIES

The regular monthly meeting of the P. T. A. was held last Friday evening at the Meadow Lake Union High School with Mrs. Carl Weeks, president, in charge.

A drive for new members and the renewal of memberships in the P. T. A. will be started at once and it was decided to give a prize to the grammar school child who could bring in the largest number of members.

A silk flag is to be given to the classroom having the largest representation of parents and friends at the monthly meetings of the association. High rank for three successive meetings would give permanent possession to the classroom.

Miss Marion Lothrop read an interesting history of the first year's activity of the P. T. A.

A food sale will be held on May 17th the proceeds to be used for the work of the association.

The next meeting of the association will be held on May 28th and will be the last meeting before the summer vacation.

Refreshments of tea and cookies were served by the Homemaking Class under the direction of Miss Hazel Jensen.

The following permanent chairman of the various committees were appointed by the president: membership, Mrs. M. Johnson; publicity, Mrs. E. Bavier; Legislature, Mrs. S. M. Richardson; historian, Miss Marion Lothrop; program, Mrs. S. E. Gordon; Miss Charlotte Pfeuffer; Miss Dorothy Flammer; finance, Mrs. Geo. Kamp; Mrs. Floyd Thomas; Mrs. H. T. Langille.

C. of C. To Discuss 4th of July Celebration

A discussion on the feasibility of holding a Fourth of July celebration will be held at the chamber of commerce luncheon on Monday noon at the Saddle Rock Buffet.

High School Play To Be Presented Friday

The high school play to be presented at the Masonic Hall Friday evening promises to be one of the best productions yet undertaken by the high school students.

The high school orchestra will furnish the music and Miss Marion Lothrop will direct the production of the comedy.

The title of the play is "Shirt Sleeves." The Rand family is the hub of the play. It consists of Franklin and Julia Rand and their four children, ranging in age from twenty to fifteen years. Having inherited his modest fortune, Franklin Rand, and those dependent upon him, have never realized what economy and teamwork mean to the average family. A bank failure precipitates disaster to the Rand publishing business and almost overnight the family is brought face to face with poverty. The first reaction is that of incredulity followed by open rebellion. Theodore and Esther, as interesting and resourceful a pair of twins as ever graced a home, fight to the last ditch for the despairing father. Margie Scanlon, daughter of a notorious law breaker, enters the family and against overwhelming odds finally succeeds in planting the family fortunes on firm ground at the close of the play.

The cast of characters is as follows: Theodore Rand, Robert Leamon; Esther Rand, Betty Shone; Diana Rand, eldest daughter, Norma Stewart; Norman Aldrich, friend of Diana, Doyle McGinn; Julia Rand, mother, Floy Duncan; Kitty, servant, Ida Stewart; Clarissa Scott and Midge Waring, friends of Diana, Ellen Sanders, Stella Zorich; Donald Rand, eldest son, James McLeod; Richard Crandall, politician, Mervin Sanders.

Elementary School Teachers Re-elected

At a meeting of the board of trustees of the Truckee Grammar school held on Monday evening it was voted to re-elect the present teachers and contracts have been given them for the year 1935-36 term. The present teaching force is P. R. Nelson, principal and teacher of the seventh and eighth grades, Miss Alene Parker, teacher of the intermediate grades and Miss Charlotte Pfeuffer, teacher of the primary grades.

W. H. LAITY BUILDING FUNERAL PARLOR

Work was begun this week on a two story addition to the home of Harold Laity. The two story addition will be used by Mr. Laity in his funeral work. The first floor will be used for a preparation room and slumber room and on the second floor a funeral parlor will be built.

Mr. Laity has received notice that he has passed the state examination for his embalmers license and expects to have his funeral establishment completed within a month.

FRANK JONES DEMANDS JURY TRIAL

Frank Jones was brought to Truckee from the county jail at Nevada City on Monday by Sheriff Carl J. Tobiasen to appear before Judge C. E. Smith charged with battery and pleaded not guilty and demanded a jury trial which will be held on May 16th.

Jones was involved in a fight with A. D. Mason on the night of April 24th near Prosser Creek and seriously injured Mason.

FISHING SEASON OPENS WEDNESDAY ON TRUCKEE RIVER

Conditions Should Be Ideal For a Good Fishing Season. Planting of Fish Unusually Heavy in Streams Of Region Last Fall.

The Truckee River will be open for fishing on next Wednesday, May 15th and the local fishermen are anticipating a good fishing season.

The Truckee River has long been a favorite fishing stream and when the season opens there is always a large representation of fishermen from the valley and bay region. Due to the heavy snows this year the river is high but experienced fishermen who have fished the river for many years do not expect to experience any difficulty in getting their limit on the opening day.

FISHING SURVEY By Swanee

According to a statement given out here this week by Mr. J. C. Lewis, superintendent of Fish Hatcheries in the Lake Tahoe region, rod and reel enthusiasts who plan to invade local streams and lakes in their itinerary this year should enjoy a thrilling and lucrative season. The Truckee River proper, which opens on May 15th, should fulfill every promise of a fisherman's paradise, surpassing even last year's record, for not only is there a generous supply of water, but a plentiful run of Loch-laven and Rainbow; an enormous number of these having been crowded into the Truckee river last year.

Tahoe and its tributaries will open on May 30th, as will Cold Stream and Donner Creek, near Truckee, the latter two offering plenty of Loch-laven and Eastern Brook, having been closed for several years past.

In keeping with policies which aim constantly to improve fishing conditions in the Tahoe region, the Bureau of Fishculture is making a number of interesting experiments here. Among them is the project at Mariette Lake, in Nevada, where by special arrangement with the Nevada Fish Commission and the Virginia Gold Hill Water Co., Eastern Brook eggs are being supplied for this district, some 475,000 taken last year now in the Tahoe hatchery. Enough were secured to test the possibilities of the lake as a source of local supply. Results proved highly satisfactory and it is anticipated the same procedure will be repeated, providing it meets with the approval of the Division of Fish and Game.

In Independence Lake recently the Bureau of Fishculture made a really momentous discovery, one which should, within three or four years time, again lure sportsmen to Tahoe in exciting numbers. For they found there the last remnants of a type of fish commonly known as the "pogy," which disappeared entirely from the lake waters about 12 years ago, eradicated by some strange, unknown disease. No study of the cause of their disappearance was ever made, and Ernie Pomini of Idlewild is perhaps the only old timer who made any check on them whatever, recalling well the year that hundreds were seen floating dead upon the water's surface. Excellent eating, and great sport to catch, their eradication was regretted, but soon forgotten. Last year Mr. Lewis and his men brought out 175,000 of these eggs, and in a few days will venture again to the shores of Independence Lake which still lie buried under eight feet or more of snow, to secure an even greater supply, they hope. No easy journey this, over 11 miles of snow on skis or snowshoes, with equipment being drawn on toboggans by hand. Digging through the deep snow to the ground they will erect tents, re-

COMMENTS FROM CALIFORNIA NEWSPAPERS

By United Press

GOVERNOR IS ON THE SPOT

Regardless of the action he takes on the assembly resolution recommending commutation of sentence for Mooney and Billings, Governor Merriam apparently is "on the spot," in the view of many California editors.

As to whether terms of the resolution should be carried out, opinion varied greatly—from enthusiastic endorsement of the proposal to condemnation of the action as something new in judicial proceedings.

"Assemblyman Brennan, the man who was chief deputy in the prosecuting attorney's office during the Mooney trial," notes the Los Angeles News, "introduced the resolution and thus completed the long list of public officials most familiar with the case who believe that the ends of justice would best be served by giving Mooney his liberty. What action Governor Merriam may take upon the legislature's request it is impossible to conjecture. During his campaign for office the governor pledged himself to go into the Mooney case. If he has forgotten that promise, the recommendation will at least serve to jog his memory."

"The admitted perjury against Tom Mooney," said the Santa Ana Register, "the fact that the judge who tried him, the jury that convicted him and the witnesses who perjured themselves, have all tried to rectify their action; couples with the fact that now the deputy district attorney who prosecuted him comes forward with this resolution, ought to insure the correction of this terrible injustice, as far as it can be done."

The assembly's action, according to the San Francisco News, "points the way toward a prompt ending of what is a shameful scandal to most Californians and a pain in the neck to all. Mooney would have no choice if the governor were to commute his sentence. He would walk out of San Quentin a free man. And his fight to vindicate himself could still be carried on through a proceedings to restore his citizenship. If Mr. Merriam is wise he will act as the assembly asks him to."

On the contrary, the Hanford Daily Sentinel points out, "the only argument advanced for the proposed commutation is that with Mooney and Billings free, California will be relieved of any further annoyance by the campaign for them which has extended throughout the nation and based upon false propaganda which the Mooney defense committee has been persistently spreading for many years. Does such an argument justify such a course on the part of the legislative branch of the state government?"

"Brennan," the Turlock Daily Journal believes, "would have the criminals of this state incarcerated or freed merely by the measure of what public opinion, (subject to debate itself) would decide. What would be the use of judges and juries if the criminal could obtain the legislature's okay for release through pressure of lobbyists? In simple language, Brennan admits that the Modlers Union has created a lot of sob-sister sentiment for Mooney and therefore he should be turned loose. He would not have dared present such an argument 19 years ago when the horrible memory of 12 dead and 70 maimed was fresh in the minds of the people."

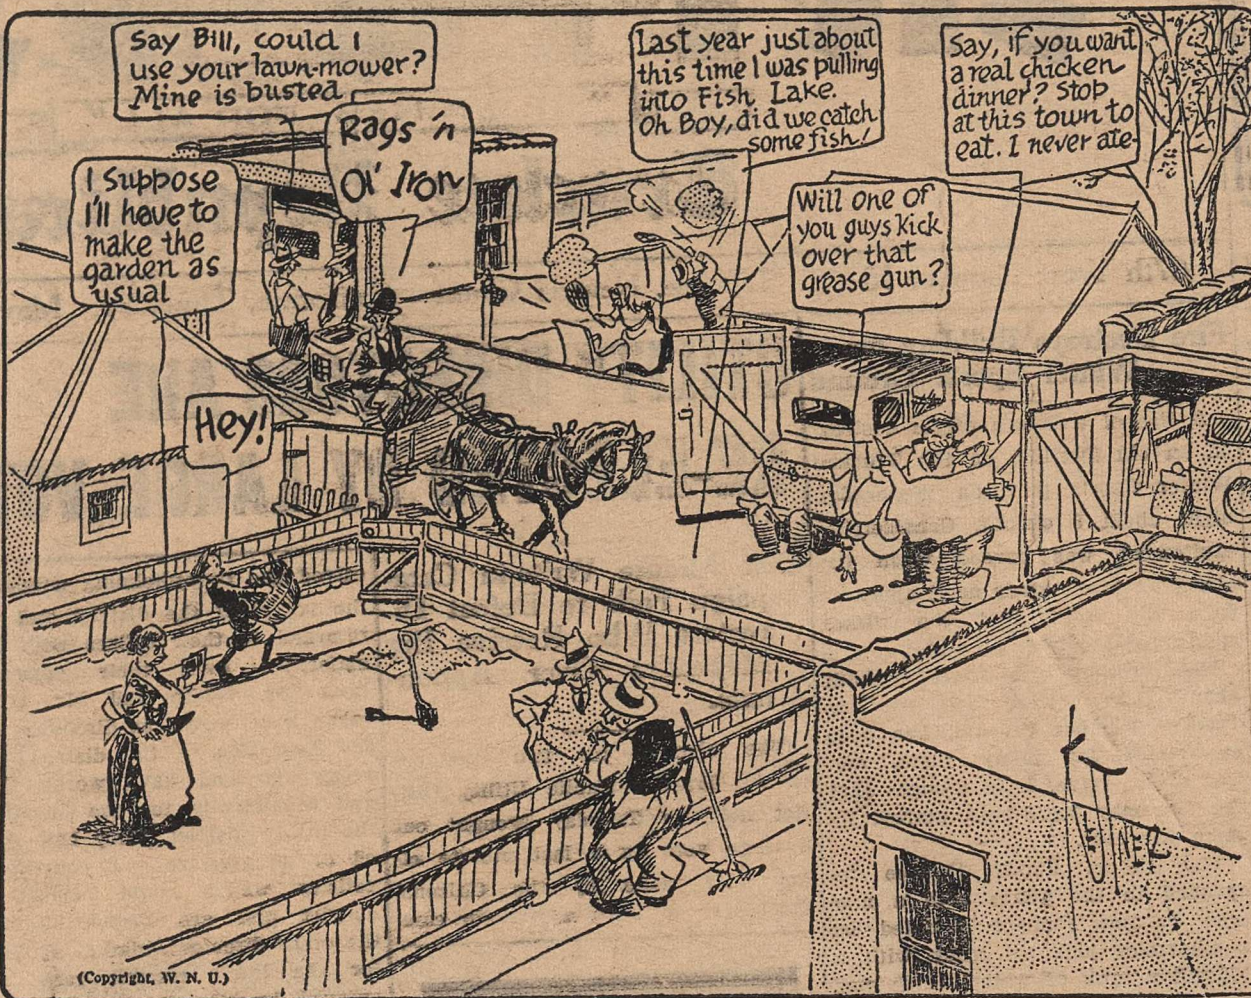

The issue, concludes the Visalia Times Delta, "has degenerated into a chronic racket, where a group of agitators have made Mooney defense an inexhaustible meal ticket, soliciting funds from labor and keeping the matter alive by interminable propaganda and litigation. The expense to labor and to the taxpayers has been enormous. As long as the men are in prison the racket will continue; with them out there may be some speechmaking tours and a moving picture contract or two, and then oblivion and peace."

AFTER A DECADE OF STRUGGLE

On April 16, a piece of important news to American industry came from Washington. The Senate, without a single dissenting vote, had passed the Eastman bus and truck regulation bill. In the words of Mr. Eastman, this means that his bill, which carries the endorsement of the Administration and of a legion of industrialists, has taken its biggest hurdle.

It is difficult to see how anyone could oppose the bill on sound grounds. It does not penalize buses and trucks—it simply places them on an equitable basis with the rails. Under the terms of the bill, the Interstate Commerce Commission has control of motor bus and truck rates, service, accounts and maximum hours of service for employees. It can likewise prescribe regulations designed to make bus and truck operation safe, and has the power to supervise all phases of the business of motor vehicle transportation brokers.

It is highly significant that responsible bus and truck operators have often voiced approval of such legislation as this. Even as the railroads want it passed to protect them from impossible, inequitable competition, stable bus and truck systems realize that the bill is essential to protect them from wild-catting within their industry. About the only opponents of the bill are fly-by-night bus and truck concerns, which are unwilling or unable to provide adequate and safe service, to stabilize rates and schedules, and to assure employees of reasonable wages and good working conditions.

The bill goes to the House next—and that body will perform a great public service if it passes it immediately.

SILVER SOARS

The outlook for "silver prosperity" constantly improves. During the past few weeks silver quotations throughout the world have soared. This is principally due to the belief that the United States Government is determined to establish the price for new silver at $1.29 an ounce.

Coupled with the rise in price, according to the Wall Street Journal, there has been almost complete dearth of supply, as holders of the white metal cling to their stocks in the belief that still higher prices are in prospect.

A good example of the trend is afforded by Japan, where the Japanese domestic silver dealer's association recently raised its price to 71.764 yen per kilogram—the highest price established by that group since 1919. By contrast, the price was but 47.579 yen per kilogram a year ago.

Thus, it looks as if our long-depressed silver mines are at last on the verge of brighter times.

Politically Speaking

By GEORGE E. HELMER

SACRAMENTO, May 9.—(UP)—Members of the joint legislative steering committee admit that new taxes must be levied to raise enough money for state government expenses, but they are opposed to any heavy producing tax plan which has been submitted.

That situation made itself evident after the committee, appointed to draw up a logical tax program which might prove acceptable to both houses, voted on 23 recommendations for the purpose of determining the attitude of members.

Generally speaking, a majority of the committee members oppose a gross receipts or transactions tax, and ad valorem, and delay in the transfer of utility taxes to the counties. These are the three heaviest producers of all revenue plans submitted.

They are divided on another big yielder—transferring automobile taxes from counties to the state—and on a proposal to levy a consumers' tax on utility services for unemployment relief purposes.

They also object to increasing the gas tax, jumping the automobile license fee from $3 to $5, increasing the insurance gross premium tax, so-called nuisance taxes on theatre admissions and luxuries, and levying a tax on real estate transfers.

The committee agreed, however, on the principle of an income tax, increased bank and corporation franchise taxes, higher liquor and beer taxes, truck tax, increased inheritance tax and transfer of highway bond payments to the highway fund, most of which are relatively small revenue proposals. Opinion was varied on severance taxes.

This exposure of committee attitude made plain what everybody knew anyway—that legislators do not want to levy new taxes. It also indicated a major fight in the offing on the subject of ad valorem vs. gross receipts taxes, with the possibility of the ad valorem winning.

One affects property, the other incomes and prices.

Disclosure of attitude meant practically nothing so far as final action is concerned, members agreed. The legislature, if it hopes to maintain the state's credit, will be forced to vote new taxes whether agreeable or not, or else dump the problem in the lap of the electorate.

Trading operations, underway for some time, have been increased with legislative strategists attempting to swing the various factions in line behind a tax program and eliminate the danger of the entire problem being placed on the ballot in a special election.

Reported interest of Governor Merriam in a gross receipts tax was regarded in some quarters as a maneuver to scare legislators into accepting the gubernatorial program or something like it. The ad valorem remains as a backstop, but here has started a movement to place the legislature on record against the emergency tax on the ground it would "work a hardship" on property owners.

Unless a program is drawn within two weeks, the likelihood of a special election on the proposal to delay transfer of utility property to the counties and thus save the state $60,000,000 may grow into a reality.

Social legislation, about which much was said last fall, was almost forgotten by the legislature in its routine and revenue rush. Assemblyman William Hornblower's bill to liberalize provisions of the state's old age security act was approved by committee, but other social insurance met with strong opposition.

Interest in a health insurance bill dropped perceptibly when the senate committee on public health amended the measure to trim the salaries of proposed board members from $5,000 to $3,000 each, and limit the director's pay to $5,000.

Strongest advocates of health insurance included men who hoped to land remunerative jobs. When the pay scale which they proposed was slashed, they immediately lost interest and the bill lost some of its momentum.

Most legislators, while favoring health insurance, believed the subject was too complex to handle on short notice. They predicted a program would be evolved two years hence.

Legislators decline to let business interfere with play. They called off night committee meetings for a dinner given by the governor, and planned to halt proceedings for an afternoon and night in the midst of the last furious rush of affairs to enable members to attend a circus May 8 and the legislative ball that night. Assemblyman Patrick J. McMurray, San Francisco, suggested that May 9 be declared a legislative holiday to permit members to recuperate from the ball.

Senatorial repudiation of Governor Frank F. Merriam's highway unification program drew no comment from administration heads who had fought for the measure during the early part of the session.

There were rumors that the administration discontinued pushing the plan because it had trading possibilities in connection with support for the governor's taxation and revenue recommendations.

"No comment," replied the governor when asked his reaction to the senate's refusal to draw the unification bills out of committee.

He had received no advance warning that the highway fight would go to a showdown in the upper house. Senator George M. Biggar, author of the unification bills, apparently started the action without notifying the governor, doing it on the spur of the moment because he saw the possibility of his bills dying in committee.

The highway setback was surprising because of the preponderant vote against considering the bills which proposed to carry out one of Merriam's pet ideas. It was hailed as a victory for county boards of supervisors, rather than an indication that the senate had turned against the administration.

Another "corner office" measure was blocked when a senate committee refused to send out a bill by Senator Ralph E. Swing to extend state aid to self-help cooperatives.

This and many other developments were so puzzling that even the veterans were at a loss to explain their significance, or whether they meant anything except that this legislature, generally, is one of the most unusual ever to assemble in Sacramento. It just doesn't do the things it is expected to do.

Maneuvering of the state taxation and revenue problems has moved around in a wide circle. It started in January when the governor submitted a 14-point tax program which drew sharp criticism from democrats and some republicans because it proposed so many taxes on the consumer.

Opposition at that time sent revenue discussion veering off toward gross receipts and transactions taxes, high income levies, severance taxes, delaying the return of utility property to local tax rolls. Then there arose a growing interest in ad valorem taxes which had been opposed mightily by many officials during the past year.

Attention Customers:

Should you desire it, your Sierra Sun will be forwarded to any address if you will call Tahoe City 66J or the Sun office, Truckee 161.

As was to be expected, the prosperity chain letter craze struck this quiet lake region with a resounding bang on Monday. Comments flew fast and furiously on all sides as mail boxes were taxed to capacity, some condemning, but mostly everyone condoning this latest of painless American money extraction stunts. The public here as a whole assumes the attitude of good sports, philosophizing that even though little be gained, little also will be lost in the venture, and "nothing attempted, nothing gained!" The ten cent variety letter seems most prevalent, although many dollar and some $10.00 applications have been received most of which were immediately relegated to the waste baskets. Most folks fail to see cause for alarm, and in fact experience something of a thrill in sending off their tenth of a dollar to some unknown destination, considering it in the practical light of a good investment. But methinks it is the early bird who will catch all the worms, as early birds usually do, for the craze is bound to fade out sooner or later, and those coming first will be served first. Then like the pee-wee golf course and other novel forms of entertainment it will die a natural death as soon as some new scheme appears to replace it and capture the fickle public's fancy. In the meanwhile all of us brave souls who parted with our shiny dimes and dollars should be sitting on top of the world with folded hands, sympathizing with our more timid neighbors who feared to curry fortune's favor, and who will still be earning their daily bread by the sweat of their honest brows! The writer is planning to canvas this region, just for curiosity's sake, and report later the results of this novel "get-rich-quick" formula.

Frank Pomin is resting a bit more easily at St. Marys Hospital in Reno, according to last reports, and although he appears brighter, sleeps better and is able to take some nourishment, his condition is not materially changed. On Wednesday the doctors attempted an operation but were not successful, resorting to a blood transfusion instead. Since then he appears to be slightly improved.

There will be a special program on Friday night at 7:00 p. m. at the Tahoe grammar schoolhouse in observance of Public Schools Week. Mr. Leo Baisden of Sacramento to be guest speaker. All are cordially invited to attend and enjoy the evening's entertainment which will be in charge of Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger.

May Day at Tahoe proved another damp one with rain and snow visiting the region during the afternoon. The snow is diminishing fast as sunny warm weather continues unbroken, the greatest depth along the lakeshore ranging from the bare ground to around five feet. Wild flowers and shrubs are pushing their way in places through ground still blanketed with a layer of snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Chris Boyarides have returned to their home in the Bettencourt Tract at Tahoe having spent the winter months at Castle Hot Springs, in Arizona.

Henry F. Droste was a visitor in town over the week-end. He plans to return to Tahoe for the summer in the near future.

Funeral services were held in Reno on Monday for Mrs. Effie Carvin, sister of Mr. N. R. Mayfield of Tahoe, who passed away in Reno on Thursday about noon. Ed Carvin, her husband, is a cousin of Mrs. Myrtle Gallinger, the romance of the Carvins culminating in marriage at Tahoe some four years ago. Many relatives and friends attended the services in Reno, from this community where she was well known and highly respected.

Election of officers was held at the regular monthly meeting of the Tahoe Lake P. T. A. on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Eleanor Swanson replaces Mrs. William Wathen as president, Mrs. Fred Cowell receiving the vice-presidency, Mrs. Bliss Hinkle 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Frank Armstrong, treasurer and Mrs. Ethel Vernon, temporary secretary. It was decided to hold the meeting of the Sierra Tri-Branch Council which included Hobart Mills and Truckee, at the Tahoe Women's Clubhouse at 7:00 p. m. on May 15th in order that the men folks might also be present. A short program will precede the special meeting which will be attended by Mrs. Ada Stoll Extension Chairman of the 3rd district, Mrs. Henry Weber of Colfax, president of the 3rd district, and a group of prominent clubwomen of Sacramento who will accompany them. Refreshments served by the hostess, Mrs. Amelia Wehrman and her aids, will be followed by a social hour which will conclude the evening.

Mrs. John Kvistberg and her mother of Burlingame are now occupying their home in Tahoe Park. Others in this tract now are Mr. and Mrs. William Lambert of Visalia.

Celeste Planett is back again at Tahoe for the summer, dividing her time between the home of her mother, Mrs. Mary Planett of Carleton Bay and her sister Mrs. A. M. Henry of Tahoe City.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Marshall served delicious fried chicken dinner at the opening of their new dining salon on the Truckee-Tahoe highway Saturday night, May 4th, a large crowd attending. Extensive alterations have been made, a large separate dining hall for working men now available, and several small dining rooms off the main room where guests may enjoy their meals in seclusion.

Louis H. Valentine, 76, former Superior court judge of Los Angeles, died at his home in that city on May 2nd. He was a brother of Mr. C. O. Valentine of Tahoe and had resigned from the bench in 1926 due to ill health. He was born in El Dorado County. The Valentines went below to attend the funeral services and remain indefinitely.

Mr. H. F. Droste will address a gathering of the P. T. A. Legislation study group at the Tahoe grammar schoolhouse on the evening of May 22nd at 7 p. m. The subject of his discussion will be the N. R. A. Following his discourse he will be glad to answer all questions put to him by members of the audience, and being an authority on this subject, the evening should prove entertaining as well as instructive. All are invited to attend.

Bids for the new school house are now being advertised for the first time in Auburn, and they will be segregated bids.

Fred Settee of the Tahoe Fish Hatchery has been confined to his bed for over a week with a severe attack of influenza.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Matthews of San Francisco returned to Tahoe on Sunday, Mrs. Matthews to remain in for the summer. Jack made a trip to Reno to visit at Frank Pomin's bedside, returning to San Francisco by plane that night. His many friends here will be glad to learn that he has left the Gaylord Hotel and is now managing the Hotel Whitcomb.

Jimmie Christie is again back at Tahoe and the Tahoe Mercantile for the summer, his wife planning to join him here around June 1st.

A cordial invitation has been extended all mothers to attend the Eagle's special Mothers' Day services next Sunday, May 12th, in the afternoon at the Methodist Church in Truckee, where Rev. P. H. Willis will officiate. This thoughtful, appropriate, and commendable observance is an annual event staged by the Truckee Eagles honoring all mothers of this region, each receiving during the ceremony, the gift of beautiful bouquet of flowers. A gracious gesture from a group of gracious sons!

Mr. F. N. Brooks of Corry, Penn. was a visitor over the week-end at the home of his sister, Mrs. Frank Armstrong at Tahoe. He continued on to Oakland where he is remaining indefinitely.

All indications presage a busy season for the Tahoe region, the first indication being overcrowding of school conditions, even at this early date. For the first time in Tahoe's history, the grammar school is refusing to accept more pupils, Mrs. Gallinger handling more children now, than can be comfortably accommodated. An outdoor summer school may be attempted later, but not until the weather conditions become more reliable than at present.

Members of the Peace Officers Association are urged to make their reservations early for the banquet to be held at Tahoe Inn on Saturday evening at 7:30 p. m. with a good time guaranteed for all.

Mrs. William Oliver on Monday was hostess at a luncheon at her home in Lake Forest, guests attending included Mrs. Gerda Henrikson, Mrs. Ethel Vernon, Mrs. Amelia Wehrman, Mrs. Charles Swanson, Mrs. Fred Cowell and Mrs. Dave Tyler.

DOUBLE CUSHION

Equal to the demands of to-day's driving needs

Higher speeds on small diameter wheels puts an added strain on tires.

Mansfield saw in advance that just ordinary construction with ordinary materials would not produce a tire equal to these new demands.

The reinforced DOUBLE CUSHION used only in Mansfield Tires, gives greater protection from punctures and blow-outs and supplies added strength which gives you at no extra cost, a tire equal to the demands of today's driving needs.

Do not be satisfied with just ordinary tires but let us put a set of Mansfield Balloons on your car today.

The motor car is a good customer of everybody...

WOOL goes into upholstery, floor coverings, lubricants and anti-rust preparations.

LEATHER goes into upholstery—and in addition, glues are made from cow hide, and from cow's milk... Other parts of cattle, through other processes, yield stearic acid, greases, glycerine (for shock absorbers and body enamel) and soap chips (used in washing machined parts and bodies before painting).

HOGS furnish lard oil, oleic acid and brush bristles.

BEESWAX goes into electrical imbedding compounds.

COTTON goes into tires, batting, cloth, battery box, timing gears, brake linings and, not least important, into Safety Glass. (Every Ford V-8 car built this year will have Safety Glass in every window, at no extra cost to the car buyer... Cotton, in the form of cellulose acetate, is the central part between the two sheets of glass that make up every finished sheet of Safety Glass.)

CORN yields butyl alcohol (for enamel finishes and other purposes) and starch (for stiffening cotton linings).

LINSEED OIL is the basis for paint—is used in foundry cores—and is one of the ingredients of the beautiful, synthetic baked enamel finish on a Ford V-8.

SUGAR CANE yields molasses for solvents, anti-freeze and shock absorber fluids.

CASTOR OIL goes into lacquers and artificial leather suitable for rumble seats, where real leather would be damaged by exposure to the weather.

TUNG OIL is part of the top material used in Ford cars and is also used in brake linings.

TURPENTINE is used in paints, adhesives and solvents.

SOY BEANS are used in making cores for metal castings in our foundry and are also an important part of the baked enamel finish of a Ford V-8 and of the plastic knobs and buttons in the car's interior.

LUMBER is used for packing purposes. It is not used for any structural part of the Ford car, which has a welded, all-steel body, reinforced with steel, for maximum safety.

Legislative Sidelights

Senator Leonard Difani submitted a sub-committee report on a study of the ambulance chasing bill. Loud protests came from Senators Ray W. Hays and Culbert L. Olson.

"We weren't considered in those changes," they said. "We have a lot of ideas to submit on that as members of the sub-committee."

The secretary studied her minutes and found that Senators Jerrold Seawall and Bradford Crittenden were the other members of the sub-committee and were not present.

Roll call was in progress on reconsideration of a senate bill. Leonard Difani's name was called. He answered "No" while all other members had voted "Aye" at his request. "I didn't get enough sleep last night," he explained, changing his vote.

The upper house was listening to Senator Ed Stow's explanation of an assembly bill. He completed his talk and sat down. The senate scratched its collective head. Stow was explaining the wrong bill.

"That isn't the bill but I'll vote for it," said Senator Culbert L. Olson.

"You guys just don't understand my language," answered Stow.

Speaker Ted Craig of the assembly was anxious to clear the chamber and permit the holding of committee meetings, despite a demand for continuation of an afternoon session beyond the 4 p. m. adjournment time. During a brief lull, Floor Leader Charles Lyon moved that the assembly adjourn until the following morning. "All in favor signify by saying 'aye'" said Craig. Possibly 20 answered. "Opposed—"

A roar of "noes" rolled through the chamber.

"The 'ayes' have it; assembly adjourned," snapped Ted, banging his gavel then quickly leaving the speaker's stand. He strode out of the chamber, grinning, while a chorus of boos resounded from all sides.

The assembly has assumed the appearance of a combined convention hall, sewing circle and Parent-Teacher meeting.

Refusing to clamp down the house rules, such as the senate did some weeks ago, assemblymen prefer to entertain guests. As a result, aisles are crowded with folding chairs occupied by men, women and children relatives and friends. The "knitting and sewing circle"—composed largely of assemblymen's wives occupies rear seats and as many of the press tables as it can manage to grab before reporters arrive. Knitting needles fly and subdued gossip is exchanged while the husband assemblymen orate or just sit.

Conditions are different in the senate, where quiet is a prerequisite and few beside the press, attaches and wives are admitted.

Members of the labor and capitol committee were deeply engrossed in consideration of bills when a call of the senate was issued. The members, led by Senator Jerry Seawall, defied an assistant sergeant-at-arms to return them to the chamber until their business was completed. The efforts of three assistants was futile. They phoned for hard-boiled chief of the sergeants-at-arms, Joe Nolan, who got prompt action. Seawall, incidentally, is built like a professional wrestler.

Motion picture actor Leo Carrillo was a guest of the senate recently and presided as master of ceremonies at the governor's banquet for legislators. He says his great, great grandfather was the first provisional governor of California. His cousin is the wife of Senator Ed Stow of Santa Barbara.

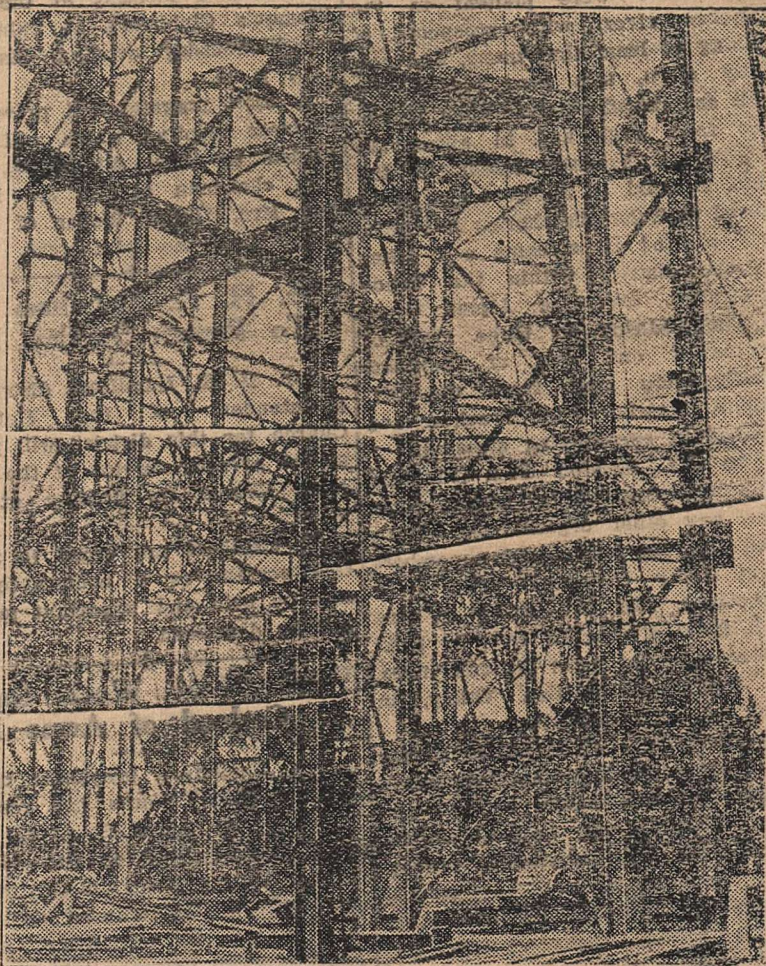

CALIFORNIA TRADE GROUP TO SOLICIT ITALIAN BUSINESS

Seeking new markets for California produce, representatives of many industries in the state will leave Oakland June 8 on a special Southern Pacific train en route to Italy on an official good will tour.

Announcement of the trade excursion was made today by Roy L. Bianchini, secretary of the Italian chamber of commerce of Oakland and the east bay district. Other organizations participating in the enterprise are the chambers of commerce in San Francisco, Oakland, Berkeley, Alameda, Los Angeles, San Diego, Sacramento, Stockton, Fresno, Eureka and Martinez, it was stated.

Members of the party will endeavor to sell California products to Italian buyers on a reciprocal basis, a survey of customers bureau records having revealed that Italy has marketed more than $63,000,000 worth of goods in this state since 1920. Over the same period, statistics show, Italian firms have purchased few commodities in California, although this state is a heavy producer of materials bought by Italy in other markets.

Ford Exhibit Steel Rises At San Diego Exposition

With nearly 100 per cent of the steel work erected, contractors promise completion within the next few days of the steel work for the Ford Motor Company's exhibit palace at the California Pacific International exposition, San Diego, opening May 29. Then pouring of concrete for the great circular exhibit building will get under way.

Hundreds of workmen are now engaged in welding four hundred and fifty tons of great steel trusses and girders for the framework of the Ford Motor Company's exhibit palace at the California Pacific International Exposition in San Diego, which opens May 29.

Present indications are that the framework will be in place before the scheduled date. When the thousands of yards of concrete have been poured, the great circular edifice will take form. It is situated on the top of a promontory overlooking a series of terraces on which will be shown replicas of famous roads of nations bordering the Pacific. Among these replicas will be the old trails which once crossed Arizona and California deserts. Already terraces are formed and bits of the trails are being completed.

All this construction is progressing simultaneously as preparations for the exhibit go forward. When the gates open May 29 the Ford presentation will be 100 per cent complete.

An itinerary of 40 days has been planned in Italy, with visits to Rome, Naples, Genoa, Milan, Venice, Florence, Pisa, Lucca, Bologna, Turin, Ferrara, Oneglia, Montecatini, Viareggio, Palermo and other cities. Audiences with the Pope and Benito Mussolini have been arranged for the party, according to the announcement.

The public has been invited to join the trade group, which will travel to New York via Washington for an interview with President Roosevelt. The sailing from New York will be June 15.

Spring Is the Time To Examine Auto Tires

The coming of warmer weather should cause every car owner to have his tires, rims and wheels examined, according to R. J. Loomis, San Francisco District Manager of the B. F. Goodrich Company.

"Modern tires give so much trouble-free service that the average car owner gives little thought to his tire equipment as long as the casings hold air," Mr. Loomis said. "This is a shortsighted policy particularly at this season for hot pavements and increased driving induced by better weather may cause many hidden troubles to develop."

"Many potential tire faults are not visible at a casual glance and as the inspection service is free at any Goodrich dealers, every car owner should take advantage of it before summer arrives."

"For instance a tack or nail cannot always be seen unless it happens to be where it catches the eye, and bruises are not usually evident unless the tire is subjected to a thorough examination."

"In many cases cuts or other breaks in a casing are not found unless the tire is removed from the rim. Service men have the tools necessary for quick, accurate inspection and can give advice based on experience."

A prize was offered in a competition at charity bazaar to the one who could pack a trunk in the shortest time. A housewife watching the event was shocked when her cook proved an easy winner.

In all Christian Science churches, branches of The Mother Church. The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., a Lesson-Sermon will be read Sunday, May 12, on the subject "Adam and Fallen Man."

The Golden Text will be: "As Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness, even so must the Son of man be lifted up: that whosoever believeth in him should not perish, but have eternal life" (John 3:14, 15.) Bible selections will include the following passage from Romans 6:20-22, "For when ye were the servants of sin, ye were free from righteousness. What fruit had ye then in those things whereof ye are now ashamed? For the end of those things is death. But now being made free from sin, and become servants to God, ye have your fruit unto holiness, and the end everlasting life."

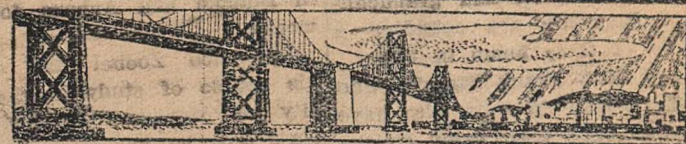

A passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be included, which reads as follows: "When we wake to the truth of being, all disease, pain, weakness, weariness, sorrow, sin, death, will be unknown, and the mortal dream will forever cease" (pp. 218, 219.)

During a discussion of an architect's bill, Senator Ralph E. Swing complained that despite the fact he maining for about six weeks to complete their task. Coming out, the heavy cans of eggs, filled with water to preserve life, must be carried on their backs, this feat on skis being far from child's play. These are then taken to one of the Tahoe hatcheries and placed in troughs to be eyed, it requiring at least three years before they would mature for spawning purposes. The main object in propagating these "pogies" is an attempt to bring this type of fish in sufficient numbers again to Lake Tahoe to make them a factor in sport fishing.

Over 40 years ago Bill Shebley and Eugene Hunt went into Independence Lake, set up racks and secured eggs, remaining over a month, but that was the only year the trip was ever attempted. All those taken last year were planted in the small lakes and streams hereabouts, where they are more or less protected. The process however, because of the time element, necessarily is slow, but within three of four years Mr. Lewis guarantees fishermen such sport at Tahoe "pogy-fishing" as they have probably seldom known.

Last year 150,000 rainbow trout, four or five inches in length, raised in the San Francisco Flycasters Club tanks were planted in the Truckee river, with prospects of raising at least that many, and possibly more, this year again. The fish are raised at the Tahoe Hatchery from eggs and in about the middle of summer taken to the club. A total of 3,100,000 fish were raised in Tahoe hatcheries last year, and planted in streams and lakes in the district within the Tahoe watershed, excepting Alpine County, in addition to three cars of Lochleven and one of Rainbow which were sent from the Mt. Shasta Hatchery to Truckee and planted in surrounding streams.

The Mt. Raiston Fish Planting Club operates on a larger scale than any other organization of its kind in the state. Its members plant many thousands of fish in something like 200 lakes in the high Sierras, reached only by pack horses over the most difficult trails, up through Desolation Valley, in back of Echo Summit.

Norman Celio of Myers is by far the most enthusiastic individual fish planter on the south end of the lake. Using pack horses, trucks, wagons or any available conveyance, he planted last year several hundred thousand in the headwaters of the upper Truckee beyond Kit Carson Pass, the Saxon and Trout Creeks and Scott's Lake. Others at Tahoe who assist annually in replenishing fish for local streams and lakes are Dave Chambers, J. E. Pomin, Frank Pomin, Carl Bechtolt, Allan Morrow, Don James, Robert Southern, A. W. Hildinger, Harrie Price Craven and Nelson L. Salter.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS
ROLL CALL HAS VERY LARGE ATTENDANCE

The annual roll call of Summit Lodge, Knights of Pythias was held at the Masonic Hall on Friday night and the hall was filled with members of the lodge, visiting members and friends.

The program which had been arranged was well presented and on interesting address was given by Grand Chancellor Sidney J. Silverstein. Remarks were also made by officers of the Nevada domain.

An abundance of flowers had been secured by the committee in charge of the roll call and as is their custom were presented to the ladies present.

CARD OF THANKS
I wish to thank the voters of the Truckee Public Utility District for their support in the recent election. I appreciate their confidence in me and will endeavor to continue to merit it.

DIME AND DOLLAR LETTER SCHEME CONTINUES TO GROW

The dime and dollar letter craze hit Truckee last Thursday and each day letters are pouring in to local residents from all over the state.

Many of the local residents are enthusiastic over the scheme and are sending out dimes and dollars in response to the letters.

Beset by the multitude of inquiries, the post office department made public a ruling of its legal department which declared the "dime chain mail" illegal because it violates the lottery and fraud clause of the postal service. A nation-wide investigation has been ordered and a number of arrests have been made and more will be made until the scheme is checked.

STATE TO RUSH TEXTBOOK PRINTING

SACRAMENTO, May 9.—(UP)—Printing of approximately $260,000 worth of free textbooks probably will be undertaken soon by the state department of education and the state printing plant.

The "order" to rush the printing before June 30 was issued by the senate in a resolution offered by Senator Thomas Scollan, Sacramento.

Scollan's resolution urged preparation of textbooks for the next school year by the department of education and the use of more than $260,000 now available in the textbook fund. He declared the state might be compelled to purchase the books in the open market at much
